Dear Parents,

We are living in a digital era now. Technology grows in leaps and bounds just as Moso Bamboo Shoots up at night. Modern technology has changed the environment in which our children grow up today. They are heavily influenced by what they see, hear and experience on T.V., Internet and Social Media. Social networking and advanced communication technology badly affect them Mentally and their orientation towards studies. Many Parents feel helpless, even frustrated when they realize that their children spend a lot of time on smart phone, tabs, laptops and much less time communicating with them. At this juncture, wise people who are concerned about the trend of the society stop and wonder where the world is heading to and how to save it from the destruction of the humanity that is moving without any personal conviction and direction from the heart. Hence, Parents need to keep Face with the children by checking on what they watch, talk and do. They could make use of two important parenting tools- 'Mentoring and Monitoring', Mentoring involves becoming a guide, a role model, a guru. Children learn initially from what they observe in their parents. Monitoring, on the other hand means verifying details for the simple reason that today's world throws many attractive choices and alternatives to Youngsters, not all of them are wholesome and safe, Parents need to spend quality time with them and guide them through confusing maze of all sorts of information, virtual reality and alternate values. Then, you will have the satisfaction of watching your children grow to maturity capable of making intelligent and meaningful choices on their own.

It gives me immense pleasure and pride to present this special edition of our school magazine Sanskar Pariwar, as we celebrate 15 years of excellence in education. This milestone marks not just the passage of time but the growth, dedications and collective spirit that have shaped our institution into what it is today. Over these fifteen years, our school has been a nurturing ground for young minds in inspiring curiosity, building character and instilling values that last a lifetime. We have faced challenges, embraced change and emerged stronger each time driven our shared vision of holistic development and quality education. This magazine beautifully captures the creativity, achievements and voices of our students and faculty members. Each page reflects the vibrant energy, discipline and enthusiasm that define our school community. As we step into the future, let us continue to uphold the legacy of excellence we have built together. I extend my heartfelt gratitude to our dedicated, teachers, supportive parents and diligent students who have all contributed to this remarkable journey. May the next chapter of our story be even more inspiring and successful.

With warm regards!
